

Celebrate Fall in Nelson County, Virginia with The Shepherd's Center of Richmond Friday – October 26, 2018

Come, join your friends for this great fall excursion towards to the beautiful Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia! We've included two historic homes and an apple stop making this one fall trip you don't want to miss – colors should be peaking!

Pharsalia, an antebellum plantation, was built in 1814 at the foot of dePriest Mountain in Nelson County, Virginia for William Massie. William died during the civil war and his fourth wife, Maria Effinger, kept the plantation thriving until her death in 1889. Two owners lived at Pharsalia until Foxie Morgan's parents purchased it back into the family in 1951. It's now open for tours, weddings, parties and events to help with continual restoration. Take a step back in history when you walk through the doors of Pharsalia. There will be a guide tour inside the home and the out building. While here enjoy a catered lunch consisting of such items as quiche, homemade soup, chicken salad. If it is nice we'll plan to eat outside on their terrace.

Next, travel a short distance to Oak Ridge Estate, a 5,000-acre plantation estate first built in 1802 and acquired at the turn of the 20th century by Thomas Fortune Ryan, who had become one of the 10 wealthiest men in the nation. He made impressive alterations to the building and grounds-adding a formal Italian garden, rotunda greenhouse and railroad station, among other features. In addition to the impressive house and grounds, Oak Ridge Estates is also available for weddings, meetings, corporate functions and private events. You can't leave this part of Virginia without a stop at Drumheller's Orchard for delicious apples and other yummy items!
