IMPACT STATEMENT

The Shepherd's Center of Richmond continued to build on the momentum of the previous year with growth across our organization. We welcomed 148 new Open University students and 137 new members, reflecting the increasing demand for lifelong learning and meaningful engagement among older adults.

In early July, Jennifer Holliday joined our staff as Client Services Coordinator, strengthening our transportation program. Under her leadership, we recruited 31 new volunteer drivers to help meet the growing need for medical and grocery transportation, enabling more seniors to remain healthy, well-nourished, and independent.

Our supporters also made this a remarkable year for fundraising. Thanks to their generosity, the Double-Nickel Campaign exceeded its ambitious goal of raising $55,000, providing vital support for our mission.

September brought another successful Open House, with more than 100 visitors joining us to learn about our programs, reconnect with friends, and introduce others to The Shepherd's Center.

Each April, Aging Forward (formerly Shepherd's Center of America) recognizes an outstanding volunteer from each affiliate in the National Gallery of Volunteer Excellence, honoring exceptional service and lasting contributions. This year, Aging Forward recognized Hal Costley from The Shepherd's Center of Richmond by adding his name to the National Gallery.

Our Events Committee continued to offer a variety of popular outings, including theater, museum visits, historical tours, wine tasting, and movie afternoons, giving members enjoyable opportunities to learn, connect, and explore together.

In April, our Executive Director and two Aging Forward colleagues were selected to present the workshop, Peer Power: How Older Adults Are Redefining Lifelong Learning Using the Aging Forward Model, at the joint national conference of the Aging Forward Alliance and the American Society on Aging in Atlanta.

As we look ahead, The Shepherd's Center of Richmond remains committed to expanding our impact. Whether you volunteer or make a financial contribution, your support helps older adults throughout the Richmond region remain engaged, connected, and independent. Everything we accomplish is possible because of the generosity, compassion, and commitment of those who choose to serve alongside us.

Executive Director

ROBERT S. SEILER LEGACY SOCIETY

The legacy society of The Shepherd's Center of Richmond is named after its founder, the late Rev. Robert S. Seiler. Following the model of the Shepherd's Center of America (recently redesignated Aging Forward), he established lifelong learning programs and personal services that would enable seniors to stay in their homes for a longer period of time. Seiler launched The Shepherd's Center of Richmond in March of 1984 as a nonprofit education and service organization for older adults.

Bob Seiler, March, 2009

Join the Legacy Society

The programs and services offered by The Shepherd's Center of Richmond significantly enrich the lives of seniors in our community. The generosity of forward-thinking individuals plays a powerful role in sustaining our mission and enhancing our efforts.

A bequest from your estate reflects your values and aspirations and ensures continued support for a cause that is important to you.

Your legal or financial advisor can suggest simple ways to create a bequest. Those who do so, and inform the office of their intention, are enrolled in the Robert S. Seiler Legacy Society. Seniors in the Richmond community will be the long-time beneficiaries.

Please contact the office if you would like more information.

Thank you!
